

Singapore Press Holdings Limited (SPH) is the leading media group in Singapore, offering up-to-the-minute news and infotainment across multiple delivery platforms to a growing regional and international audience.

It publishes 13 newspapers in the four official languages and more than 80 magazine titles. Everyday, 2.8 million individuals, or 88% of the population above 15 years old, read at least one SPH publication, while online editions of its six main dailies enjoy an estimated 300 million pageviews a month.

With some 1,000 journalists and 16 overseas bureaus in major cities around the world, especially Asia, SPH provides comprehensive, in-depth and insightful coverage of local, regional and world news.

The English daily, The Straits Times, and Chinese daily Lianhe Zaobao, are the flagship newspapers of SPH. The other two dailies, Berita Harian and Tamil Murasu, are staples for the Malay-speaking and Tamil-speaking communities respectively. The four major newspapers, together with The New Paper, an afternoon tabloid, and The Business Times, the leading financial daily in Singapore, also provide fully integrated online news on the portal AsiaOne.

SPH Magazines, a wholly-owned subsidiary of SPH, publishes best-selling and award-winning magazines such as Her World, Home & Décor and Young Parents.

SPH owns a 20% stake in a unit of a terrestrial TV station that operates three free-to-air channels, and a 40% stake in a free newspaper. In addition, the Group runs two radio stations in a joint venture with NTUC Media. The Company also holds an 80% stake in subsidiary SPH MediaBoxOffice, its new outdoor advertising entity.

Listed on the mainboard of the Singapore Exchange, SPH is an active corporate citizen and supports a wide range of community and charitable causes, ranging from education, arts and culture, to wildlife conservation and sports.
